INTRODUCTION

The following is a transcription from Leander van Ess's autograph copies of the catalogue of the early printed books and manuscripts he sold in 1838 to the New-York Theological Seminary, now Union Theological Seminary. These are, respectively parts B and C of a tri-partite manuscript catalogue, two copies of which are preserved in the Burke Library. This edition is based on the fair copy (called volume 1 by the library on the spine of the photoreproduction kept in the rare-book reading room) with corrections, where necessary, based on the second, working copy (volume 2). Only where differences between the fair and the working copies are substantial are they noted. Ess arranged his B-catalogue so that the Panzer-numbers always appeared on the outside of the leaf (i.e., they were to the right of the narrative description on recto pages and to the left on versos). Here the Panzer-numbers are all presented in the right column.

The first section of this catalogue is the second section or Catalog. B of Ess's list, the category for incunabula proper. To this list are appended entries for a number of volumes not in Ess's list that on the basis of internal evidence almost certainly came to New York from him. At the end of B, Ess notes that there were also a number of incunabula in his Catalogus A (or general list). The entries for the latter 'incunabula' are gathered after the B list. Ess, incidentally, followed the contemporary, more expansive dating for the period of incunabula, as did his major reference authority, Georg Wolfgang Panzer, listing as incunabula books printed in the first four decades of the sixteenth century. Numerous sixteenth-century books are included in the B-list, and almost all of the books listed as incunabulum in the A-list are from after 1500. A few such books in the A-list that Ess failed to note are listed at the end.

Between the entries by Leander van Ess (and right-justified below Ess's description of the book) there are very brief notes that record important information about the books and their provenance.

- In a first line are notes concerning the binding or condition of the book. The presence of manuscript or incunabular printing in the binding is often noted. Rebinding, repairs or disbinding will often mean that the New-York Theological Seminary bookplate and other signs of provenance have been removed.
- Thereafter come notes about provenance:
 - Monastic provenances are given in brief form, and where I have not been able to decipher an ex-libris note (or have chosen not to because it is a personal ex libris rather than institutional) it is so noted. The effort in this list has been to identify libraries to which the books once belonged, ignoring for the most part individual owners' and book-dealers' marks.
 - E followed by a number indicates that a tag is found on the book that correlates with Ess's catalogue numbering. (Other spine tags and labels are ignored.)
 - ESchw indicates the presence of Ess's printed bookplate when he was "Pfarrer und ex-Benediktiner" in Schwallenberg, 1803-1812.

- Dpl (or dpl in or dpl mit) followed by a number (usually five figures) indicates a book that was acquired from surplus books from monastic libraries that were disposed of by the University Library at Freiburg in Breisgau. Numbers correspond to those assigned books of the same imprint in the old catalogue of the university library.
- NYTS denotes the presence of the New-York Theological Seminary bookplate inside the front board. (The name used only briefly, and is therefore a good indication that the copy is indeed one obtained from Ess, even absent other signs of provenance.) [NYTS] indicates that the plate has been removed but there are clear signs that it was once present.
- RB [rare book] indicates the book is kept with a former (and often uncatalogued) rare book collection on the fifteenth deck of the Brown Tower stacks at the Burke Library, without classmark.

Otherwise the last note in the entry is usually the "Union classification" mark.

Very occasionally a book has been reclassified, in which case a number preceded by Tower is given. (If such a number is followed by RB, the book is shelved among the RB incunabula.)

Since this catalogue was prepared, the uncatalogued rare materials in the Burke library have been added to CLIO, the electronic catalogue of the Columbia University Libraries.

Ref. Pam. indicates one of several incunabular brochures that have been placed with a separate collection of Reformation (and Luther) pamphlets—a collection that also came to New York from Ess but was not included in the Catalogue. (See Milton McC. Gatch, The Library of Leander van Ess and the First American Collection of Reformation Pamphlets [New York, 2007], for a reconstruction of van Ess's lost Catalogus D of Reformation pamphlets.)

After the lists of early printed books, the Catalog C, Leander van Ess's list of manuscripts, is edited in similar format. To it are added numerous manuscripts that also came to New York from Ess. Some are listed in the A-list; others are not to be found in van Ess's list. Most of the medieval (and some of the modern) manuscripts in the C-group are also listed in di Ricci's Census of American-owned manuscripts.

The catalogue is followed by three indexes: the incunabula and manuscripts are separately indexed by authors' names (in the form used by Goff for incunabula) or (in the case of anonymous works) by title. Entries are indexed to the Ess catalogue (with A, B or C to indicate the sections of Ess's catalogue). The index to the early printed books also gives Goff's numbers for the same volume. If a volume is not registered in Goff, either the Goff-number or the imprint date is given in square brackets. The final index is to the provenance of the books, usually monastic but occasionally personal.

One cannot do this kind of work unaided. Anders Winroth transcribed the B-catalogue and much of the A-catalogue. Paul Needham and William Stoneman, among others, have been very helpful in solving difficulties; and my colleagues at the Burke Library have been helpful and resourceful. Errors there will inevitably be—and they are mine.

²⁶This note appears only in the fair copy (vol. 1) of the Ess manuscript booklist. See below for descriptions of these books.

Additions

Three groups of early printed books (with some manuscript material) are noted here, With only a few exceptions they are not included in the handwritten catalogue of Leander van Ess.

- The first is a group of books, almost all with a clear Huysburg provenance, in a numbered series ranging to No. 40. Although the notations about provenance in these entries query whether the numbering derives from Leander van Ess, I believe that he probably received the set as an already-numbered group. One of the Huysburg books has a place in Ess's Catalogus A; this and the New-York Theological Seminary bookplate indicate strongly that these books were for some time in van Ess's possession. These books have been given numbers preceded by H [Huysburg OSB].
- The second group is of books quite clearly from Leander van Ess with no such associations as the Huysburg group. They have been labeled Add.B and put in an arbitrary numerical sequence.
- Third, the books in van Ess's list of Incunabula in Catalogus A (many of which are early sixteenth-century printings) are given with appropriate references.
- To this group, finally, ia appended a short list of incunabula bound with manuscripts in the Catalogus C and a description of a Hebrew Bible that (had he known the date) Ess would have included as an incunabulum.

Catalogus C: Manuscripta

The text for items 1-37 is as given by Leander van Ess. No effort has been made to improve on Ess's description, which is usually quite adequate as a general indication of the contents of the manuscripts, if hardly exhaustive or detailed in the current style of manuscript description.

For items numbered 38 and following, descriptions are adapted from de Ricci's *Census*³⁵ or are written in very brief form by the editor. The Burke Library's western manuscripts are all held in a single sequence, and it is sometimes difficult to know whether or not an item came from Ess or was acquired elsewhere. A question mark follows the number for some manuscripts whose attribution to Ess is without internal evidence.

B61c) was described by Ess as a manuscript addition of 53 folia to a volume containing works on canon law. It has not been found.

Two Burke Library manuscripts that once belonged to Leander van Ess are not included here. Manuscript 111, acquired in 1995, was numbered 112 in the catalogue (Sammlung und Verzeichniss...) of the collection sold by Ess to Sir Thomas Phillipps in 1824 and was thereafter Phillipps Manuscript 497. A Cistercian Nocturnale, it was associated with Gladbach and may have originated with the Carthusians of St. Barbara, Cologne, from whom a number of the Ess-Phillipps manuscripts came. A later acquisition by the Friends of the Burke Library at the time of my retirement as director in 1998 is the former number 57 in the same van Ess catalogue (Phillipps 442), now Burke Library Manuscript 112. It is described by van Ess and Phillipps as a Breviary; Psalterium feriale would be a better designation, and the provenance may be Cologne.

³⁶According to Glabacher Handschriften aus der ehemaligen Benediktiner-Abtei St. Vitus, Ausstellung, 64 (Mönchengladbach Stadtbibliothek, 1964), p.18, this manuscript would have been in the group purchased by Ess from the Cologne dealer Heberle around 1821. This assumption is corroborated by the fact that Sir Thomas Phillipps's purchase of manuscripts from Ess also included Gladbach manuscripts (cf. Sigrid Krämer, Handschriftenerbe des deutschen Mittelalters, 3 vols., Mittelalterliche Bibliothekskataloge Deutschlands und der Schweiz, Ergänzungsbände 1-2 (Munich, 1989-90), 1:293-5.

⁵²The Schultens materials in C94 and C95 are close to the interests of Professor Edward Robinson, who negotiated the purchase of Ess's books at Alzey en route to the Holy Land for research on biblical archaeology and geography. It is, of course, possible that Robinson obtained C94 (add.) and C95 (add.) independently, although one would expect to find traces of his use and of a later donation to the Union library. If Ess owned these items (as seems more likely), they may have been added to the lot sold to New-York Theological Seminary in part because of their congruence with Robinson's research.

[Biblia and Bibel, respectively, indicate Latin and German versions with no further attempt to indicate the version or translator. Names conform to usage in Goff. References are to Ess's list of incunabula (B) or to his general (A) or manuscript catalogue (C)) and to Goff (with hyphen between author-initial and number). In cases where Union's copy is not been noted in Goff or Ess has included works published too late to be listed in Goff, the Goff number of the year of publication is printed in square brackets.
